1. On the afternoon of 14 September 20 North Korean tanks were camouflaged on the west side of the trail from Uihung (128-42, 36-10) to Hwabuk-tong (128-46, 36-08), 2 miles southwest of Uihung, directly east of Hill 209. There was one tank moving south on the same road directly west of Hill 772.8.
2. On the evening of 12 September two anti-tank guns (undetermined caliber) were at Chayang-ni (approximately 129-04, 36-10) facing east, in emplacements surrounded by trenches. Thirty yards from the gunbase, 100 yards off the road, two trucks loaded with approximately 150 shells were parked at the bottom of the hill.
3. In the early morning of 11 September, there was a medium tank pulling a large tank toward Kusandong (128-54, 36-16) from Pohyon-san (128-58, 36-10). Later two ox wagons loaded with 200 artillery shells, apparently anti-tank type, arrived at Pohyon-san from Kusandong.
4. On the morning of 11 September, there were approximately 3,000 North Korean troops hidden in foxholes and trenches on hills and both sides of the road area from Pohyon-san to Sinbang-dong (129-04, 36-04). Neighboring farmers stated that 1,000 of these troops were uniformed and equipped; the rest were members of the Volunteer Army in civilian clothes. From 9-10 September the NKPA took farmers into villages and issued them uniforms.
5. On the night of 10 September, 1,500 North Korean guerrilla troops departed from Chayang-ni moving toward Angang-ni (125-14, 35-59) mountain trail, carrying rifles, mortars, IMG's and HMG's.

6. On 10 September also, 150 North Korean troops from a nearby mountain visited Chayang-ni and departed for Imam-ni (129-06, 36-10). Their uniforms were worn out, and only 30 carried weapons; they were apparently recuperating casualties from the fighting at Pohang-dong. After they were cut off from food and ammunition, they hid on a mountain 2 km. north of Pohang-dong. The troops were told that Pusan was occupied by the North Koreans but when they saw UN guns and planes they felt they must retreat unless they received Soviet aid.
